

THE MCGARRAHAN BRIBERY.

HOW THE EXPOSURE OF THE MAN'S CORRUPT PRACTICES WAS MADE.

The Evidence Said by a Needy Widow to the New York City John Hickman, Frank Blair, and Senator McDougal Impeached Lincoln's Private Secretary's Crime.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The New Idria Mining Company has been a long time preparing for the exposure of McGarrahan's corrupt practices in Washington. It seems that among others he had interested in it was one Frederick Franklin, who, even then, the same secretary of the Panhandle Grande Quicksilver Mining Company, and removed from San Francisco to New York. He had, it seems, some money, which he invested in the Geome claim, and in the long flight very little he had was consumed. He died a few years ago, and his wife and children in the necessity sold the letters of McGarrahan, with all the records of the Panhandle Grande Company, to the New Idria people. The thus obtained have been systematically and energetically followed up, and the result is a great mass of testimony, crushing and conclusive, as to the operations, not only of McGarrahan, but of the members of Congress and other officials with whom he dealt. The proof is furnished, for instance, to establish the fact that John Hickman not only received the stock from McGarrahan, but that 2,252 shares of it are still in the possession of his executors and his widow. Evidence is also furnished to show that $150,000 worth, nominal value of this stock is still in the possession of Frank Blair's heirs. The letters of McGarrahan and all the other material they had collected were carefully edited, and the whole thing makes a book of 411 pages. Then, when McGarrahan memorialized Congress to cover his tracks, he was examined in Washington before the Senate Committee on Public Lands and asked for a full and searching investigation. The attorney of McGarrahan wanted it confined to the question of whether or not a patent had been granted to them. Finally the committee sent the Senate a power to send for persons and papers used yesterday for the first hearing. The Senate for New Idria at once asked for full access to all the documents laid upon Stoddard to telegraph in cipher, as agreed. Stoddard did not do just in the popular imagination on the contrary, they are angry and charged, and as usual is used with them, they vigorously deny the charge of complicity with Treasury officials, and declare that they have no desire to monopolize the fur trade of the Territory. Their denials are of course value whatever, as they are contradicted by plain and notorious facts. They not only control the trade of the Territory, driving off all competitors, but they govern the natives entirely in the interest and for the profit of the Alaska Company.

The sole object of this grasping company, like that of its predecessor—the Russian-American Company—is the fur trade of the Territory. It therefore exerts its power and influence at Washington to discourage all emigration to or development of the mineral or agricultural resources of the Territory, permits no American citizen to reside in the country except those it can control, and guards at the approaches to its coasts with a vigilance that can be inspired by greed and jealousy only.

I am anxious to see you and talk over matters. I have made a call and combination which will give me the entire information you desire. I will be at your disposal for any correspondence. This is an immense thing. In order to keep it up, however, we must make some money, and that is all.

The next day this light is thrown on Stanton's bulletins and Stoddard's operations is followed by the arrival of the two men making the secret of the cipher in which they were originally communicated, as well as by copies of some of the checks to be paid over specifically to Stoddard. On Oct. 1, 1862, Stoddard was building gold, and he gives early information of expected victories at Chathamian, and share all the gold, and, in the year 1864 and 1865 we worked this together under said arrangement. Stoddard telegraphed in cipher, as agreed, to the Alaska Company in its monopoly without reference to the Government. At a moderate valuation these skins were worth $300,000, and the payment due to the Government, and I, as far as my part of the sum due to the fur-bearing animals are permitted to be killed in the Territory of Alaska, how did the Alaska Company pay it by its legal skins of land animals? The skins of land animals were worth $7,000 less brought from Alaska stations outside the Pribilof Islands?

The more powerful the Alaska Company and the Alaska Company and the Alaska Company is invested in the Territory, the more power it has to affect gold, stocks, and other commodities. Entered into arrangement with him to furnish me telegraphic information concerning the stock gold, and combs, and share all the gold, and, in the year 1864 and 1865 we worked this together under said arrangement.
